

Minimize Your Time, Expenses, and Stress by Managing Inspections with LicenseHQ

LicenseHQ centralizes inspection and violation data and manages corrective measures to minimize non-compliance

Your Business License Headquarters

How Much Time Are You Wasting?

While the inconvenience caused by inspections may be temporary, how you handle their aftermath can devastate your business if you fail to take the necessary corrective measures. Most inspections result in violations or the imposition of corrective actions and follow-up inspections, which if mishandled can result in fines, closures, and potentially disastrous public relations. Considering the risks involved, it is alarming that many companies rely on a hodgepodge of spreadsheets or hand-written to-do lists to manage inspections and subsequent violations.

Are You...

- Scrambling when inspectors show up at your site
- Lacking a standardized processes to deal with inspection results and violations
- Rely on sites and field personnel to manage inspections
- Missing deadlines and not taking corrective actions
- Failing follow-up inspections
- Creating payment requests to cover violations manually
- Misfiling documents or losing data
- Incurring fines and business closures due to avoidable offenses
- Suffering from embarrassing community exposure as a result of failed inspections
- Spending too many resources trying to identify repeat offenders and their resulting costs to your business operations
- Struggling to track the current status of particular inspections and generate status reports for management
