

LicenseHQ: Your Total Compliance Solution

Minimize Your Time, Expense, and Incidents of Non-Compliance with LicenseHQ

Your Business License Headquarters

Why Risk Your Compliance?

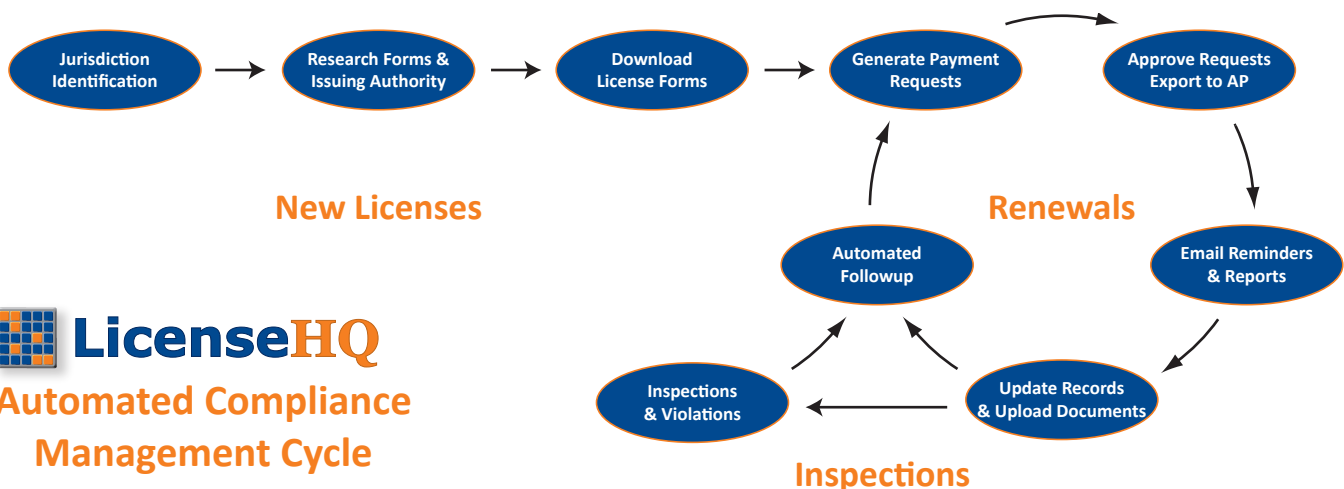

While licensing and operational compliance may not be glamorous, its success or failure can make or break your ability to operate your business and generate revenue. In spite of the extreme liability, some organizations expose themselves to unnecessary risk by entrusting their compliance to a patchwork of unreliable spreadsheets or to glorified calendars.

Are You...

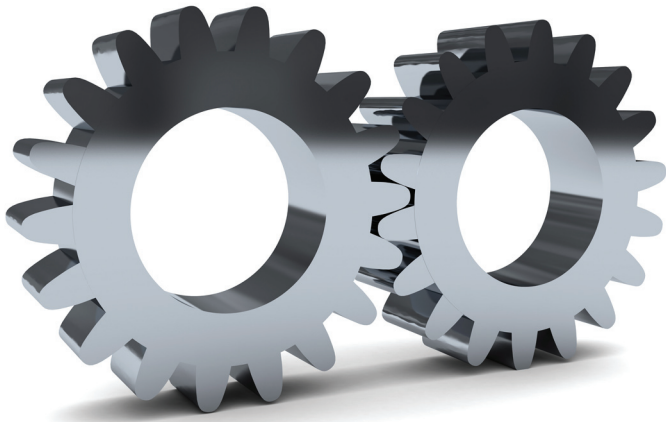

- Wasting countless hours hunting for documentation and pertinent data from decentralized sources
- Struggling with too many manual spreadsheets
- Lacking standardized licensing and operational compliance procedures
- Processing the mail hoping authorities will send renewal forms and information to the central office instead of field offices or the operator
- Missing deadlines
- Paying penalties and fines
- Incurring overtime
- Researching requirements for the opening and closing of corporate locations
- Failing to provide compliance transparency to all levels of management
- Scrambling when government inspectors pay one of your sites a visit
- Spending too much time on payment requests
- Removing vehicles and equipment from service

LicenseHQ: Your Total Compliance Solution

LicenseHQ is the only total solution allowing you to proactively drive and manage all of the aspects of licensing and operational compliance for your sites, vehicles, equipment, business operations, and personnel. It streamlines processes, minimizes expenses, and provides transparency to all levels of your organization to minimize your exposure.
